A Garden for my Wedding Ring

We have just discovered that a couple of printings for the Garden Wedding Ring patterns printed in 2004 and 2005 were printed from a file that skewed the Center and Melon templates used for the background fabrics. The straight sides on the Center template should measure just less than 7 7/8”.

Please compare your patterns with the following information listed below. This information will be found under the Fabric Chart on the back page of your pattern.

If your pattern has a UPC code and a copyright date for 1999, your templates are correct.

If your pattern has a 2004 copyright date, with or without a UPC code in the lower right hand corner, then you need to check the template page in the center of your pattern. Find the page with the Center and Melon templates. At the bottom of that page it should say Corrected: 3/21/05. If your template page does not say “Corrected 3/21/05”, then you need a new template page.
