Use the Tables Below to determine Yardage if you are creating your own Color Layout. The tables not only include yardage rounded to the nearest 1/8th of a yard, but also includes inches. If you are creating your own layout and you choose to repeat colors, it is recommended that you add the yardage together in inches and then round the total up to the nearest 1/8th of a yard before determining how much fabric you need. This will help you to conserve yardage overall. You might note, for example, that on the cover quilt, the JN-C4058 Black is used for several swatches. If the rounded yardage in the tables below are added together, more yardage is required than is really needed due to rounding. So, we recommend you double-check your yardage needed in inches before purchasing fabrics for your own color layout.
