

Wild Escapes Border

Correction, NP 1209

Originally, we designed Unit B11, 12, and 13 to have opposing seams to Units B9 and B10. However, this presented some cutting challenges and we decided that resolving those was more important than having those seams oppose each other.

Once you remove the paper, if you want them to, you can just repress the center units. When changing them back to stacked seams, we missed switching the section numbers on Unit B12. Please make the small section, Section 1 and the large Section, Section 2. This matches the Templates, and the instructions for stacking.

If you want to make the seams opposing, remove the papers, then repress.

